Exercise Tips

For many people, weekends provide the only time available to work out and participate in sports. To help you enjoy the sunshine and some exercise, the American Bottled Water Association offers these suggestions:

Dress accordingly for the type of exercise and the weather. Wear light, loose fitting clothes to allow for maximum freedom of movement, blood circulation and comfort. Proper shoes are also important; sneakers and crepe-soled shoes are usually best.

A good way to "get in shape" is to begin your exercise program with less strenuous sports such as cycling, swimming, or softball. Be careful not to "over-do;" increase the amount of time you exercise gradually.

It's important to replenish body fluids through perspiration. To quench the thirst that builds during exertion, as well as help you cool off, have a container of bottled domestic water handy whenever you exercise.

To guard against heat-stroke cause by over-exposure to strong sun rays, wear a cap or other light head covering. It's also a good idea to take frequent rest breaks in the shade.

ASCS Today

By Tom Conrad

Certification of Crop Acreage

Farmers are again asked to report planted acreage of their crops as soon as planting is completed, but no later than the final certification dates for individual crops. Producers of corn, barley, wheat, oats, rye, flax, sun, and barley tobacco need to report by July 14. Producers of grain sorghum and soybeans need to report by July 30. Flue cured tobacco producers need to report by this Friday, June 30. If you will not complete your planting by the reporting dates, you will need to report planted acres plus intentions. Farmers signed up under the Set-Aside program will have to report in order to remain eligible for program benefits and producers of tobacco will have to report in order to be eligible for price support. If you are not growing tobacco and are not participating in the Set-Aside program I ask that you report crop and landuse acreage so the ASCS records can be kept up to date.

Set-Aside Acreage

Farmers signed up in the Set-Aside program are reminded that there is no grazing or harvesting allowed on set-aside land between February 28, 1978 and September 1, 1978. Clipping of old stands of grasses and legumes is required during the growing season except land plowed and disced by December 31, 1978 for 1979 crops.

Tobacco

Tobacco producers are once again reminded that tobacco treated with toxaphene, endrin DDT or TDE after being planted in the field will not be eligible for price support. The ASCS office will later on send a card to all producers asking them to certify whether or not the above chemicals were used on their tobacco. These cards must be returned to the ASCS office before marketing cards can be issued.

Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP)

Farmers that have completed practices under the ACP are asked to report their completion as soon as possible, but not later than the completion date on the approval. If you are not able to complete the practice by the completion date on the approval, please contact the ASCS office so that an extension can be arranged.

Land Program

Farmers in the county are reminded that ASCS has a loan program for storage structures and drying equipment. The loan covers structurs for either wet storage or dryed grains. ASCS will lend up to 85% of the cost of eligible equipment at 7 percent interest over a period of from five to eight years. The loan period is determined by the applicant.
